

ABSTRACT

This invention discloses a novel method for propagation of viral vectors encoding proteins that induce apoptosis. The invention also discloses viral vectors produced by such methods and cells transfected with such vectors. Also disclosed are methods for suppressing 5 T-lymphocyte-mediated graft rejection, for suppressing T-lymphocyte-mediated disease and for inducing apoptosis in cancer cells.